Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am sure you have received many letters protesting the proposed Comcast/Time Warner Cable merger. I, therefore, would like to add my opposition to such a merger.

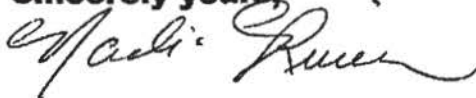

Although it may be said that we do not need to have Internet, cable or telephone service, in today's world these have become necessities. We cannot watch TV without cable; our telephone service depends on the Internet, and it goes on and on, like a chain reaction.

Life as it is for us, especially here in New York City, becomes more and more difficult as time goes by. Rents, utilities, food prices, energy—everything keeps going up—while we can hardly make it on our incomes and large corporations get wealthier and wealthier. We feel powerless against this onslaught.

I hope that you will take this as well as the other many requests you would have received against this merger into account at the time of your decision.

I, on behalf of many others that would probably do not know how to protest, thank you for thinking of us.

Sincerely yours,

Nadia Rivera
